Live Music: Tinpanic, 5:30-7 p.m., Dufresne Plaza

Rain Location, Callahan Hall – Lewiston Public Library

Tinpanic is L/A's own 10-piece steel drum band, with a repertoire ranging from the Big Band era to calypso island favorites. The concert is free and open to the public.

Michael Krapovicky - Solo Musician

Festival Plaza, Auburn (5-7 p.m.)

Rain Location, Community Little Theater (30 Academy St., Auburn)

A musician professionally performing in New England since 1999, Michael Krapovicky is a songwriter and multi-instrumentalist with a love for storytelling and concise, heartfelt lyrics. Michael is currently a member of the bands The Grumps and Eds Meds, and performs solo acoustic promoting his original music. His releases include "Songs I Lied About," "Lowlife," and completed RPM Challenge submissions from 2008, 2010, 2012 and 2014.

8:00 p.m. The Juke Joint Devils

@She Doesn't Like Guthries (115 Middle Street)

The Juke Joint Devils play an energetic, swinging blues that isn't heard much these days. It's a foot-stomping, hip-shaking genre that harkens back to that swampy, riffy, rocky sound people heard in noisy bars.

These guys take you back to a time when small house bands played from the soul, on real instruments, could swing like crazy, and anything could happen on stage. The Juke Joint Devils play a mix of West Coast and Chicago Blues, with a bit of spice from New Orleans and elsewhere. The band features International Blues Challenge finalists Tommy O'Connell on harp and vocals and Sean Bowman standup bass, Johnny Moran on drums, and with Stefan Iris on guitar.

LEWISTON/AUBURN – L/A Arts is proud to announce the venues and performances for the final Art Walk L/A of the season, Friday, September 25th 5-8:30 p.m. Four musical groups will play, two in Lewiston: Tinpanic steel drum band will play beginning at 5:30 p.m. at Dufresne Plaza while the Juke Joint Devils will play at 8 p.m. at She Doesn't Like Guthries, and two in Auburn: Michael Krapovicky - Solo musician will play in Festival Plaza, Auburn at 5 p.m. (and again at Gritty's later that evening), and Continental Shakedown will be at 207 American Grille starting at 8:30 p.m.

This month's featured artists are Jeff Jacques, who has transformed the Argo Marketing space into a gallery with 300 of his ink prints, and the annual Boys and Girls Club exhibit will grace Le Messenger Gallery with beautiful photographic images (Vote for your favorite!).

L/A Arts is leading a fundraising campaign this month to break even on Art Walk for 2015, and to help make 2016 possible. Your generous donations are needed to keep this wonderful event going. If you donate at the Art Supporter Level ($100-$149), you receive a bright new L/A Arts lapel pin! Look out for the donation booths and buckets and please give generously! Thank you!

More than twenty venues are booked, (including six in Auburn!), where the talents of as many new and revisiting local artists can be viewed. Art Walk features a full website which highlights each evening's events and has a full artist catalog of work at: www.artwalklewistonauburn.com.

Again this month L/A Arts encourages the Art Walk patrons to not only support local visual artists by coming to see their work, but also to purchase! In August, L/A Arts was proud to help facilitate artists selling over 15 pieces of work!. Nothing helps sustain local art more than financially doing so, and with zero commissions on great, reasonably priced art, you know more of your hard earned dollars will go directly to the artists. So think about not only enjoying pieces at the event but do so for a lifetime - by buying local art. Celebrate the creativity of our great Twin Cities - come walk with us one last time this season – Friday, September 25th!
